RD WEIS COMPANIES WELCOMES NEW TEAM MEMBER

Paul Vogan is Regional Manager, Boston

Port Chester, NY... Randall Weis, President of RD Weis Companies, is pleased to announce that Paul Vogan has joined the company's team in the position of Regional Manager for the greater Boston area. Mr. Vogan brings over three decades of in-depth experience in flooring sales, project management, and installation.

In announcing Mr. Vogan's hire, Mr. Weis said, "Paul's long time experience with big buildings means that his planning and execution are consistent, successful, and timely. His work with This Old House really showcased his knowledge, skill, and good nature. He installed the flooring for many high schools and public facilities throughout New England, and was involved in carpeting the Sheraton World offices at 60 State Street when first built, and the John Hancock observation deck when first built—Paul is definitely the guy you want in charge of your flooring."

Mr. Vogan brings RD Weis Companies in-depth experience in large, difficult public installation, including being one of the first ever to install Marmoleum with flash cove base, at the New England Baptist Hospital. He maintained the carpeting The Wang Center and the Schubert Theater, and recently installed flooring in the Fitchburg Police Station and Elder Community Center, and in the Men's Warehouse Downtown Crossing.

Paul is probably best known, however, for his ten episodes on This Old House, working with Bob Villa, Steve Thomas, and producer Russell Morash., including planning and on-site execution.
